

The Mathematics and Statistics Club presents:

“Beyond Georgia State” with Dr. Walter Wallace

Upon graduation, what will I be looking for in the way of a career interest, personal development, and work location? Certainly, the United States has a wealth of opportunities for someone like me... Mathematics Degree! I would be comfortable working anywhere in the Southeast or Southwest! What about London, England? What about Asia? South America?

How do you want to brand yourself? Where will the next market be for the skill set that I have acquired be? Will it be in the U.S? What additional skill, experience, and formal education will I need to be successful in the business or educational field of my choosing? How do I become a global citizen?
